

Maria "Marinkie" MADIOPE is not simply your average working girl. Her academic record speaks of a vigilant style and resilient independence. Maria completed her DED: Didactics at the University of South Africa. Her thesis title: The feasibility of using audio podcast mobile technology to teach research writing in open distance learning: Case of University of South Africa. During 1999 to 2001 she obtained her MEd. in Computer-based Instruction, and also completed a non-degree course in Bed. Computer-based Instruction in 1999 – both at the University of Johannesburg. In the late 80s Maria completed her Bed. At the University of the North. During the early 80s (1983 – 1985) she obtained her BA specialisation in Education from the University of the North. She obtained a two-year Junior Secondary Teacher's Certificate at the Hebron College of Education during 1980/81. Her career evolved from being the Head of the Languages Department at LG Holele High, Garankuwa to an Instructional Designer for Technikon Pretoria (2000 – 2001), Absa Bank (2001 – 2002) and currently she is one of the drivers for online learning and teaching at the University Of South Africa and also Deputy Director: College Education Consultant: Education.

Marinkie also completed the following short courses: Project management course, Technikon South Africa. Online Staff Development course through an international college NSBA and Online Education and Training course from the University of London. My research focus area is ICT in education and Women empowerment. Maria has presented on eLearning topics, Mobile learning and Open Distance education at several conferences locally and internationally, including MLearn 2005, ELearn 2004, conferences. Maria has published papers locally and internally. Dr Maria Madiope is the winner of the Gender Activism: Advocacy and Promotion of Women's Rights and 2013 Unisa Woman of the Year awards. She is also the recipient of the award UNISA counsellor's award 2013 Best performer.

Dr Maria MADIOPE
Deputy Director,
College Education Consultant: Education
Directorate for Curriculum and Learning Development
Phone: 012 4296972
Email: madiom@unisa.ac.za